ZoomText Large-Print Keyboard Released

Easy Typing and Quick Access to ZoomText 9

September 1, 2006 – Manchester, VT. Ai Squared, a worldwide leader in computer access solutions, is proud to announce the release of the new ZoomText® Large-Print Keyboard, featuring easy-to-read keycaps and "one-touch" access to ZoomText 9.0 – Ai Squared's popular screen magnifier/screen reader. Designed for the ZoomText user, or anyone who struggles to see the keys on their keyboard, the ZoomText Keyboard makes typing and using ZoomText faster and easier than ever before.

With large 36-point lettering and a high-contrast black on yellow color scheme, each key and button label on the ZoomText Keyboard is easy to see, even in low light conditions. Users can quickly locate any key, allowing for improved typing speed, accuracy and productivity. Users will also realize decreased eyestrain and fatigue.

The ZoomText Keyboard also provides sixteen dedicated feature keys that allow users to instantly access their favorite ZoomText 9.0 commands. With the touch of a button, users can start ZoomText, change magnification levels, toggle screen enhancements, launch automatic reading modes, and more, all without having to memorize hotkeys. Each feature key can be reassigned to the user's choice of ZoomText commands, Internet or multimedia commands, or to open an application, document or web page. Reassigning the feature keys is quick and easy using the friendly dialogs and wizards in the ZoomText Keyboard software.

The ZoomText Keyboard is designed for use on any Windows XP or Windows 2000 system, and can be attached to either a USB or PS/2 port. For use with ZoomText Magnifier or Magnifier/Reader, users must have ZoomText version 9.03 or later.

"Vision impaired computer users have trouble seeing both the computer screen and the keyboard," says Doug Hacker, Director of Sales and Marketing. "By combining the ZoomText Keyboard with ZoomText 9.0, users now have a complete low-vision workstation that's much easier to use."

The ZoomText Keyboard is priced at $99. When purchased with a new copy of ZoomText Magnifier or ZoomText Magnifier/Reader, users will receive the keyboard for just $79.
